SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background: This is the sixth public hearing the Commission will hold during its 2022 report cycle. This hearing will address China's centrality in global supply chains and U.S. policies to bolster supply chain resilience. The hearing will start with a review of how China's position in global supply chains has evolved and assess the Chinese Communist Party's supply chain objectives. Next, the hearing will evaluate the challenges the United States faces in securing select supply chains and review strategic frameworks and policy options for supply chain realignment. Finally, the hearing will examine risks and vulnerabilities in U.S. defense-critical supply chains.

The hearing will be co-chaired by Commissioner Bob Borochoff and Commissioner Carte Goodwin. Any interested party may file a written statement by June 9, 2022 by transmitting to the contact above. A portion of the hearing will include a question and answer period between the Commissioners and the witnesses.

Authority: Congress created the U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission in 2000 in the National Defense Authorization Act (Public Law 106-398), as amended by Division P of the Consolidated Appropriations Resolution, 2003 (Public Law 108-7), as amended by Public Law 109-108 (November 22, 2005), as amended by Public Law 113-291 (December 19, 2014).

Date: May 18, 2022.

Daniel W. Peck, Executive Director, U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission.
